Bradley Davis

Hello everyone, my name is Bradley Davis and I am a junior here at Kent State University. I am a Psychology major with a minor in Human Development and Family Studies. My research interests are focused around studies involving adolescents, specifically related to learning abilities and education. After I complete my undergraduate degree, I plan on applying to Master programs for School Psychology or School Counseling.

Kara Shaver

I am a sophomore Pre-Medicine Psychology major. I am currently a student, emergency medical technician, research assistant, and waitress. My research interest includes homeopathic and preventative medicine. I am intrigued by the holistic approach to modern medicine. My goal succeeding my bachelor's degree is to attend an osteopathic medical school, with the intent to pursue a career as an emergency medicine physician.
