TWO ASSIST MOREHART
Add Five to Faculty

By Don Rutledge

Five new faculty members have been employed at the Canton Academic Center of Kent State University. This brings the number of teachers and administrators to the Canton Center to 21.

The newcomers include: Howard R. Baldwin, 35, of 4120 Edge- nort Avenue NW, Massillon, physical education instructor at the Canton Center; Robert C. Pfendler, 44, of 8007 Old Zanesville Rd. NW, Massillon, who is serving as assistant to the director. His primary duties will be focused upon registration; Robert C. Pfendler, 44, of 8007 Old Zanesville Rd. NW, Massillon, who is serving as assistant to the director. His primary duties will be focused upon registration.

Mrs. Stewart Wilson of 1246 Valley View Ave. SW, who has been hired as assistant professor of physical education.

Whitson Richman of 4613 Orchard Dale Dr. NE, N. W. has been employed as an English instructor.

Robert H. Sweeter II, 23, of 1746 18th St., Cuyahoga Falls, who will serve as English instructor at both the Canton and Kent Livestock Academic Centers.

Actually, Mr. Baldwin assumed his duties at the Canton Center last December 1. He formerly served as assistant of guidance and public relations in the Sandy Valley Local School District.

A native of Canton, Mr. Bald- win was graduated from McKinley High School in 1949 and obtained his bachelor's degree in music education from Mount Union College. He received his master's degree in education from Kent State University. He formerly taught speech and drama in both the Canton and Sandy Valley Local schools and was once active in the Canton Players' Guild. Prior to beginning his teaching career in 1959, he was employed at Mercy Hospital, a Louisville foundry, and the Ford Motor Co.

Mr. Baldwin and his wife, Bar- baras Klina, have a son, Bruce, 8, and a daughter, Ann Elizabeth, 8 months.

Mr. Pfendler has been employed at the Massillon City Schools as a physical education instructor since 1951 and formerly taught at Massillon Washington High School from 1952 to 1955. Prior to that, he was speech and debate coach at McKinley High School from 1950 to 1952. He is also the recipient of the Diamond Key, highest award given by the National Fo- rematic League.

Mr. Pfendler is a native of Mas- sillon, where he was graduated from Washington High School. He attended John Carroll University and received a bachelor of science degree in education from Ohio University. In addition, he has a master's degree in speech and the- ater from Ohio University and has completed graduate work at Kent State in guidance and counseling.

He and his wife, Jane Elizabeth, have four children, Robert James 13; Christopher Charles, 11; Jen- nie Ann, 9, and David Michael, 8.

Mrs. Wilson, whose home is in North Canton, has been a women's physical education instructor on the Kent State University Campus for seven years. A native of Clevel- and, she obtained her bachelor's and master's degrees from Florida State University. Mrs. Wilson will be assistant to the director.

Club Is Formed By Faculty Wives

A campaign to promote friend- ship among the wives of faculty members and assist new faculty members to get acquainted with the community is now underway by a newly-organized faculty members' wives club.

The originators of the club are two C. A. C. faculty members, Dr. Glenn Fincher, professor of psychology and mathematics, and Mr. Robert Kistler, co-ordinator of health and physical education. Headed the organization is a com- mittee of Mrs. Thomas Cox, Mrs. Jack Morehart, Mrs. David Ruge- sin, and Mrs. Thomas McCourt. A membership of fourteen is now available to help with the func- tions at the Center.

State University. She taught a year at Concord College in West Virginia and two years at North Miami High School in Florida and three years at the junior and sen- ior high schools in Balsin, Canal Zone.

She is co-author of a physical education textbook, "Foundations for Movement," and served as co- director of the Women's Swim- ming and Diving Intercollegiate Championships at Kent in 1964.

Mr. Richman, a native of Phila- delphia, will teach freshman com- position and the short story as literature at the Canton Center. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Pennsylvania State University in 1961 and completed work on his master's degree at Indiana University.

Mr. Sweeter is a 1964 graduate of Kent State University, taught during the fall quarter of 1965 at the Salem Academic Center. He attended Miami University and the University of the Americas in Mexico City and completed his graduate study at OSU.

By Don Rutledge

Dr. Marvin Perry, chairman of the School of Journalism at Kent State University since 1963, is serving as advisor to the Ken- tonian and newswriting instructor at the Canton Academic Center. Dr. Perry received his bache- lor's degree from South Dakota University, his master's and doc- torate in mass communication from the State University of Iowa. He has been a reporter for the Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Gazette and public relations representative for the Veterans' Aid and Welfare Office. He has served as assistant to the South Dakota State University, the State University of Iowa, Kansas State University, and is currently teaching report- ing and editing classes on campus.

Dr. Marvis Perry (right) confers with Sports Editor Jan Kennedy.

Robert C. Pfendler (left) confers with the Canton Academic Center's editor, Richard J. Kennedy.

Enrollment Dates Set

Pre-enrollment will be held at the American Legion Building and is scheduled for February 26 from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon. Sched- ule is also slated for February 26, March 1, 7, and 8 from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m., from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m., and from 6:00 to 8:30 p.m. Regular enrollment is scheduled for March 15 at Lehman High School from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Site work is under way, despite the snow, at the new campus site located three miles south of the Akron-Canton Airport along Interstate Route 77 —Courtesy of The Canton Repository.
Dear Gabby

Machine Mystifies Maiden

DEAR GABBY, I put a quarter into one of the food vending machines installed at the Center this term and selected "Purple Delight." Out about 20 seconds later, I got the Gustin! What a beautiful surprise! I inserted another quarter and again expecting "Purple Delight." And what emerged? "Eggs Emerald!" I'm so hungry after class, Gabby, but I'm afraid to take another chance on THE KENTONIAN. DEAR TWO-TIME LOSER: Surprise, surprise! You have just discovered the true nature of the secret of success and satisfaction. Next month they will feature "Quaking Oats" to comfort students who have gained a pound. GABBY (Editor's Note: Our apologies to the A. A. Thomas Refr eshm ent Company for the above article. No slur on their service is intended.)

DEAR GABBY: Taking your advice, I bought a small shoveland have been carrying it around in my car for several weeks to no avail. Not carrying it around, I suggest another use for the shovel, so it won't go to waste?

DRIFTING (Name withheld) Three miles south of Akron Canton Airport, along Interstate Route 77, there is a bit of dirt on a 223-acre site. We try to go there and toss a few shovel loads in your spare time, you would discover that they are actually at the Stark County Academic Center.

GABBY

PS: We could use the shovel, also, to ward off our office workers when they find you, a non-member, digging at our excavation site.

Have a problem? So has Gabby. But, write, anyway, to GABBY, Canton Center Office.

---

Who Am I? By David M. Findley

DEAR TWO-TIME LOSER: Surprise, surprise! You have just discovered the true nature of the secret of success and satisfaction. Next month they will feature "Quaking Oats" to comfort students who have gained a pound. GABBY (Editor's Note: Our apologies to the A. A. Thomas Refresment Company for the above article. No slur on their service is intended.)

DEAR GABBY: Taking your advice, I bought a small shoveland have been carrying it around in my car for several weeks to no avail. Not carrying it around, I suggest another use for the shovel, so it won't go to waste?

DRIFTING (Name withheld) Three miles south of Akron Canton Airport, along Interstate Route 77, there is a bit of dirt on a 223-acre site. We try to go there and toss a few shovel loads in your spare time, you would discover that they are actually at the Stark County Academic Center.

GABBY

PS: We could use the shovel, also, to ward off our office workers when they find you, a non-member, digging at our excavation site.

Have a problem? So has Gabby. But, write, anyway, to GABBY, Canton Center Office.

---

Who Am I? By David M. Findley

DEAR TWO-TIME LOSER: Surprise, surprise! You have just discovered the true nature of the secret of success and satisfaction. Next month they will feature "Quaking Oats" to comfort students who have gained a pound. GABBY (Editor's Note: Our apologies to the A. A. Thomas Refresment Company for the above article. No slur on their service is intended.)

DEAR GABBY: Taking your advice, I bought a small shoveland have been carrying it around in my car for several weeks to no avail. Not carrying it around, I suggest another use for the shovel, so it won't go to waste?

DRIFTING (Name withheld) Three miles south of Akron Canton Airport, along Interstate Route 77, there is a bit of dirt on a 223-acre site. We try to go there and toss a few shovel loads in your spare time, you would discover that they are actually at the Stark County Academic Center.

GABBY

PS: We could use the shovel, also, to ward off our office workers when they find you, a non-member, digging at our excavation site.

Have a problem? So has Gabby. But, write, anyway, to GABBY, Canton Center Office.

---

Who Am I? By David M. Findley

DEAR TWO-TIME LOSER: Surprise, surprise! You have just discovered the true nature of the secret of success and satisfaction. Next month they will feature "Quaking Oats" to comfort students who have gained a pound. GABBY (Editor's Note: Our apologies to the A. A. Thomas Refresment Company for the above article. No slur on their service is intended.)

DEAR GABBY: Taking your advice, I bought a small shoveland have been carrying it around in my car for several weeks to no avail. Not carrying it around, I suggest another use for the shovel, so it won't go to waste?

DRIFTING (Name withheld) Three miles south of Akron Canton Airport, along Interstate Route 77, there is a bit of dirt on a 223-acre site. We try to go there and toss a few shovel loads in your spare time, you would discover that they are actually at the Stark County Academic Center.

GABBY

PS: We could use the shovel, also, to ward off our office workers when they find you, a non-member, digging at our excavation site.

Have a problem? So has Gabby. But, write, anyway, to GABBY, Canton Center Office.
What's There To Do?

What's there to do? Here is a column devoted to informing Cent students of local lectures and concerts.

February 9, 8:30 p.m.—Syria Marlowe, America's most distinguished harpsichordist, University Auditorium, $1 for students.

February 9, 9:10 p.m.—"Othello" at the McKinley Theatre. Tickets sold in advance.

February 10—Harry Golden, "Only in America," at Osborne Hall in College Hall.

February 25—Bashomon, play based on the stories of a modern Japanese writer, co-sponsored by Players Guild. Tickets at the box office.

February 26—Jose Greco and his Spanish Gypsy Dancers, Cleveland Music Hall at 3:00. Write Cleveland Opera Association, 2816 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland 15, Ohio, or call MA 1-8588.

February 25, at 8:30 p.m.—The Monte Carlo National Orchestra conducted by Paul Paray at the Cleveland Music Hall.

February 28, 8:30 p.m.—Vienna Opera Orchestra, in charge to students. Tickets at the Union Bookstore.

March 13, 8:00 p.m.—"Interpretation of Contemporary Music" by Nicolas Constantinou, University Auditorium. No charge to students. Tickets at Union Bookstore.

March 1 to 13—Shipstads and Johnson Foller 1966, week of Feb. 1. Sundays at 1:00, 5:00, and 9:00 p.m., Mondays at 2:00 and 6:00 p.m. Write dfe, Ice Festival at Providence Avenue, 3717 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Department 204.

Students Enjoy Lounge Facilities

While hitting the books in the Lehman cafeteria, it is now possible to enjoy an assortment of cold sandwiches, soups, or even a cup of hot soup. Between classes you can grab a candy bar as well as coffee, tea or milk, and a pack of gum for the next class.

The improved study conditions are due to the addition of numerous food vending machines at the cafeteria.

Dr. A. A. Thoma Refreshment Company is handling the food, while the vending machines are owned and serviced by the Interstate Vending Company.

Richard Franks, a representative of the Interstate Corporation, said that business was picking up each day and that during the first four weeks approximately three hundred cups of pop were sold. The thirty-five-cent sandwiches are being sold much faster than twenty-five and twenty cents, which prove that KSUC students are hungry.

Franks also said the installation of the machines and the paneling around them consisted of an initial investment of approximately $1,000 which will take nearly two years for the machines to return.

The paneling and folding doors enclosing the machines are necessary due to the present policy of the Canton City School Board. This policy makes it necessary for any students to have vending machines. However, they must be cleared to the student body at the beginning of the day for further notice from the school board.

Reflections...

"The prosperity of a country depends not on the abundance of its revenues, not on the strength of its fortifications, nor on the beauty of its public buildings; but it consists in the number of its cultivated citizens, in its men of education, enlightenment, and character; here are to be found its true interest, its chief strength, its real power."—Martin Luther.

Friends Call Him "Woody"...

Forrest Pirosino Is Typical Of Canton Center Student

By Ruth Schall

Happiness is the average of the peaks from the pen of Forrest Pirosino as he creates cartoons for The Kentonian, for his friends, and for himself. His latest sketch is a sensitive interpretation of a traditional trive. He calls it "Out­ house at Sunrise."

Forrest and The Kentonian both began their career during the fall quarter of 1965. The cartoonist is enrolled in the College of Fine Arts and plans to enter the advertising field. This career will be delayed by three years after graduation while he serves a hitch as a Naval Reserve officer.

Forrest or "Woody," as he prefers, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Pirosino, 113 Woodrow St., N.W., North Canton. The Pirosinos moved to the Canton area from Woodridge, New Jersey, four years ago. Forrest's mother, Mrs. Woody's, is an employee of the Stern engineering department.

Mrs. Pirosino's mother, Woody's mother, is an employee of the Stern and Mann Company. He has one younger brother, Richard, 14, and two younger sisters, Sharon and Brenda, who are students at Hoover High School, North Canton.

Woody, a 1964 Hoover High graduate, was active in the Print Room, a cooperative educational publication organization Club of America. In his senior year he entered advertising as part of the D.E.C.A. program and received first place in Print Room for an editorial design, which was published in the nation.

He was a member of the 1964 annual staff, doing the art layout for The Viking.

Having enlisted in the Naval Reserve in July, 1965, he will receive four years of service credit toward a baccalaureate degree at Kent State, beginning his freshman year at the Naval Reserve training station, Direct, Illinois. One night from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. and three other nights were assigned tohim and instructed to shave. Each had been discovered with an exposed whisker under the chin.

Woody's interest in art is not confined to cartoons alone. He has painted landscapes and seascapes and enjoys working in inks and oils.

"I am pleased to learn that Woody is 19. He is also tall, bright-eyed, single, and extremely clean-shaven. His hair? The Navy saw fit to remove most of it. But he will grow and, girls, he wears English Leather as though it were made for him.

Lament Upon Returning Home

The paint is almost gone now, Washed away by years and years of rain and snow and rain and snow and . . .

The once new porcelain door knob is now in hand with the stench of human hands.

The door is supported by rusted hinges. Once these hinges, well oiled, made no groaning noise. Once there were people in their grip.

Happy people Drunken people Happy people because they were young and carefree. Drunken people because of the corn whiskey Which was so generous from earthen jugs.

Hats also come from the old days To blend and mingle with ringing strings.

Banjo strings Fiddle strings Bass strings Guitar strings A million strings....

Dennis Jackson

A Reminder...

we need letters

Is something bothering you? Would you like to let off a little steam? Maybe grip a little? Or maybe you have a word of praise for someone or something?

Write a letter to the editor. She'll read it; maybe even print it. Anyhow, you get it off your chest. Right?!!!

Dr. Gilham's Presentation of History Is Unique

Dr. Clarence Todd Gilham, a history professor, is not an ordinary history professor. His "lecture materials" are unique. They are not subtle. Rather, they are a combination of ferocity, strength, dexterity, and saliency.

Are you scared? Don't be. There's a constant twinkle in his eyes, and he believes that all students will work harder and learn more if previously underfed and under Fed students. So, he embarrasses them, but with so much at the same time. He enjoys teaching, as any good professor does, and takes great pride in the fact that he turns out students.

Dr. Gilham's uniqueness does not stop at test time. Where one professor will ask, "What did General Howe take Philadelphia?", the good Dr. Gilham asks, "Philadelphia takes Howe." Then you are to explain the significance of the quotation. If you can't answer, ask Dr. Gilham. It's a little known fact that probably changes the history of the world.

Dr. Gilham teaches the abstractions of history, saying. "By the time a student gets into college, he's heard all the well-known facts of history at least five times. I think it's about time he was something new to think about."

Clarence Gilham was raised in Akron, Ohio, and was graduated from East High School. Following graduation, he worked for an A.B. degree at Akron University Night School with two majors: history and German. "I taught violin and orchestra in the daytime to finance my education," Dr. Gilham said.

Upon completion of college, he returned to his alma mater, East High, where he taught history and was advisor for graduating classes. During this time, he prepared work for a M.A. and Ph.D. at Western Reserve University in Cleveland.

With three degrees already in hand, Dr. Gilham went to Western Reserve University, where he taught history in graduate school, was an associate professor in his-
By Jan H. Kennedy

KSUC students are offered five different health and physical education courses on Saturday mornings. They include two classes in volleyball, folk dancing, archery, and bowling, and three classes in swimming. There are 234 students enrolled in HPE this quarter.

We visited the classes last Saturday to get some pictures and information. The first class we entered was the 8:30 men's volleyball session taught by Jay Fischer, who was the athletic director for KSUC from 1947 to 1950.

There are 22 boys in this class and currently Mr. Fischer is concentrating on technique and fundamentals. Later in the spring, the boys will be assigned to teams and will play a tournament.

Then, at 10:15, the girls take to the floor under the direction of Mrs. Delores Wilson. There are 13 girls in this class and they, too, are primarily concerned with fundamentals.

There are two co-ed folk dancing classes, one at 8:30 with 16 students and one at 10:15 with 17 students for a total of 33. The instructor is Miss Judy Cain, who is teaching elementary steps, common to most folk dances, that will later be incorporated into individual dances. Co-ordinating steps and beat are of utmost importance.

Then, there are the archery classes of Professor Richard Paskert. These, also, are co-ed, with 27 in the early and 24 in the late class for a total of 51 students. Mr. Paskert places knowledge and care of equipment as being of primary importance. Next to that, form and fundamentals are most essential to the budding Robin Hood.

There are three swimming classes, one at 8:30, one at 10:15, and the last one at 12:20 p.m. Bob Kissler is the instructor. The first class is for men, the second for women, and the last is co-educational, with attendance being 23, 14, and 14, respectively, for a total of 53 students. Water safety rules and sound swimming practices provide the present format for these classes.

All of the above classes are held at the Canton Jewish Community Center at 2611 Harvard Ave. NW.

We then went to the Classic Bowl at 12th St. and Market Ave. N. to look in on the bowling classes, taught by Mr. Bos.

Bowling again proved to be the most popular course with 62 students, 31 in each class, both of which are co-educational. History of the sport, equipment, ball, alley, and pin measurements, and how to score are presently being stressed. Form and technique will be perfected as the course becomes of age.

Similar courses will be offered for the spring quarter, but schedules have not been completed.

---

Pick Up Your Cage Schedule

Wallet-size schedule cards for the 1965-66 KSUS Canton Center basketball season are being distributed.

The schedule card, a 4-by-2½ inch size, has dark blue print on a white background.

All home and away games are listed.

It fits neatly into wallet or purse and can serve as a reminder of KSUC games this season.

---

Capsule Basketball Scores

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Score</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>KSUC</td>
<td>110</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>OSU Lakewood</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KSUC</td>
<td>98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Penn-Ohio</td>
<td>83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wooster Junior Varsity</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KSUC</td>
<td>73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KSUC</td>
<td>68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mount Union Junior Varsity</td>
<td>64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cleveland State University</td>
<td>61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KSUC</td>
<td>57</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cleveland Community College</td>
<td>101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KSUC</td>
<td>77</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KSU Ashtabula</td>
<td>79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KSUC</td>
<td>77</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The KSUC vs. Penn-Ohio game scheduled for Saturday night, Jan. 22, 1966, was canceled due to bad weather. It had not been rescheduled at press-time.

---

234 Enrolled in Five HPE Courses

Barry Marks is poised for a dive from the low board during the Saturday morning swim classes at the Jewish Community Center. Waiting their turn at the board are (from left to right) Jim Mastrione, Mike Leonino, Carolyn Boch, Bob Scott, Mike Schustor, Barbara Russel, Dave Spadafora, Ron Lyons, Paul Shea, Ron Mideap, and Cheryl Burleson.

---

Carole Schoenberg, Jerry Romay, Bob DeBoek, Sally Mitchell, Kathy Denison, and Bill Taylor practice some of the steps they are learning in their Saturday morning folk dancing class.