About 2 million Iraqi Kurds and other minorities fled north in April 1991 when Kurdish rebels in the north and Shiite Muslim rebels in the south failed to oust President Saddam Hussein in the aftermath of the Persian Gulf War.

A sealed structure of steel and glass will be "home" for two years to four men and four women. The structure, called Biosphere 2, is the size of 2½ football fields and contains all necessities of life. In addition to 8 humans, Biosphere 2 houses 3,800 species of animals and plants and 5 ecosystems.

On August 21, 1991, as the Communist Party denounced the take-over, Yanayer and the coup leaders fled Moscow. Latvia and Estonia declared immediate independence from the Soviet Union. In addition to telephone service being cut to all KGB buildings and Gorbachev naming a new chief of the KGB, the statue of the founder of the KGB was toppled while thousands of Muscovites watched.
A brush fire that killed 19 people in Oakland, CA, was the costliest blaze in U.S. history — the damage was put at more than $5 billion.

Life has not been the same for law professor Anita Hill since going public with allegations that Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas sexually harassed her nearly a decade ago.

On July 11, 1991, the moon slipped over the sun in the celestial ceremony of the eclipse.

Both Croatia and Slovenia proclaimed independence on June 25, and within 24 hours, military tanks were rolling toward border crossings and airports, attempting to secure the country.

Leaders of the world’s seven largest industrial democracies began arriving in London on July 14, 1991, for the economic summit focusing on aid for the Soviet Union.

President F.W. de Klerk, African National Congress president Nelson Mandela and Zulu Inkatha leader Mangosuthu Buthelezi came together in September 1991 when black and white leaders gathered to sign a peace pact in a bid to end faction fighting that has claimed hundreds of lives in South Africa.

President Bush and former Presidents Carter, Nixon and Ford joined Reagan in the first gathering ever of 5 past or current Presidents at the opening of Reagan’s presidential library in November 1991.

Crowds of perplexed people wandered among Soviet tanks parked behind the Red Square during the military coup hours.

Commencement 1968
As our four years at OCPM come to an end, we can look back on many memories. Some were spent just outside of school such as the “life threatening” crossing of Carnegie Avenue from the student parking lot; escapes from the Doctor’s Inn food at The Walker Center; and the informative seminars held at the Cleveland Clinic. We hope these “traditions” continue for a long time ...

The Ohio Chapter of the American College of Foot and Ankle Surgeons has nearly one hundred members. The goal of this organization is to provide students with the opportunity to enhance their knowledge of podiatric surgery. Each month the club has one lecture and workshop. In December there was a suturing technique workshop organized by the 3rd and 4th year students and the faculty advisor, Dr. Bonnie Nicklas. In March a trauma workshop was conducted by Dr. Calise highlighting emergency room protocol and trauma patient management. April was a busy month with a skin biopsy workshop and a casting workshop with over 50 students attending. The year was finished off with a surgical seminar held in Wagenhals.

No OCPM party would be complete without at least one performance of the Electric Slide dance. Here are some random shots from parties from the last few years. There sure is some talent in this bunch!
Here are some of the Class of 1993’s best memories from OCPM:

Janet Kail: KTE initiation
Reza Parsa: Receiving a parking token from Glenn the security guard on March 15, 1991 at 3:31 pm.
Ellisa Young: When my junior Ortho rotation group started to do the wave while Dr. Bogden was giving one of his extremely boring lectures.
Gary Deresh: My post mid-term party in the Spring of 1992
Michael Perozzi: Being roommates for 2 years with Pat Ricotta and Boyd Robinson
Rodney Grobes: Finishing the last final after 3rd year. Oh Boy!
Crystal Mack: Graduation!
Augie Bolio: AGK parties, Happy hour down in the Flats, memories at the S & S
Chris Herbert: Finally graduating, becoming a resident, and getting on with my life.
Tracy Smith: Graduation day 1993 and having my friends and family there.
Ken Emch: AGK initiation and the S & S Lounge.
Trena Reed: Florida Vacation.
Nima Moghaddas: All the great parties — especially the last 2 months of senior year, but most of all the 4 years of special friendships (especially the weirdos).
Lissette Tirado: My junior rotation group — Andres, Melanie, Gary & Mom Kail. I will never forget you guys! We really had fun together. But I will especially remember all the friends that I made in these past four years. You know who you are and you are the best!

What would be your last will and testament?

Tracy Smith: To my roommate I leave you all my old tests, charts, etc... and my study guide “How to survive the rumor association at OCPM”. To G. Gadson I leave to you my book, “How to successfully raise fish in the 90’s”. To my friends I leave you the thought, “Education is our passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs to the people who prepare for it today.” (Malcolm X)
Trena Reed: To have the time and patience to pursue the happiness you create. “Carpe Diem”
Jan Kail: I leave my right ankle and STJ to Dr. Yu.
Mike Perozzi: I leave my junk cars to Glen Snyder.
Chris Herbert: I would like to leave all my stacks of notebooks and notes that are piled up in my closet and taking up all the room.
Gary Bucholt: I leave my Gray’s Anatomy Book (Never Used!)
Jeff Knemoller: I leave Gary and Glen honorary membership in the ‘I survived living in Clarke Tower Club’. To Linda I leave four years of creative jokes about my chosen profession. To Mom & Dad thanks for all your support.

Dr. Haynie Speaks!

One of the student’s most entertaining classes third year is Dr. Haynie’s General Medicine class in the fall. He has his own special way of helping you remember the material. Here are some memorable quotes from the class in the fall of 1991:

“If you even get a ‘whiff’ of GCA — go for those temporal arteries.”

“Acromegaly mimics that natural growth process. You start out ugly — get cuter — get ugly. Then there are others that are ugly — ugly — and uglier.”

“The Cleveland Clinic was built on a thyroid and sustained by a heart.”

“Granny loses her peripheral vision, runs over a pedestrian and thinks it was a speed bump.”

A Blast From The Past! Dr. Larry Osher and Dr. Allan Boike as students at OCPM in 1982.

EDITOR'S NOTE

They say a picture is worth a thousand words. If this is true, then this book is certainly a mouthful. This yearbook has been extra special to the entire staff since we finally got to type OUR names in the Senior section. It also includes the highlights of our times at OCPM especially the day we waited four years for — Graduation Day!

Writing this last Editor's Note has been very difficult for me. I put off writing this until the very last minute. I believe it is because in a way I don’t want all this “school stuff” to be over and it means leaving behind many memories and friends that have become very special over the past four years. Saying good-bye to old friends is never easy, but if we never said “good-bye”, there are so many “hello’s” to new friends we would miss out on. As Samuel Johnson once said, “If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances through life, he will soon find himself left alone.”

When Melissa, Nima and I agreed to take over the yearbook in October 1989, we didn’t really know what we were getting ourselves into. It has been a lot of hard work especially this past year as Seniors, but it has proven to have been very rewarding in the end. One of the best advantages of being on the yearbook staff is the people I got to work with over the years. I must say there are very few employees I don’t know at OCPM and it is primarily due to my involvement with OCCOPODIAN. There are so many wonderful folks at OCPM and there are some that have significantly affected me during my four years here in Cleveland. Someone that I will miss very much is Luria Marchese. Besides always helping out with tedious yearbook responsibilities (such as checking our timesheets every month), she provided such positive advice in school matters. Another very special individual who’s viewpoint and counseling really helped me through some tough times is Bruce Cowell. Thanks to both of you for your support and encouragement.

As I pass the yearbook torch on to newer and younger minds, I wish all the upcoming classes the best of luck as you pursue your chosen profession of Podiatry. As to the Classes of 1992 and 1993, I hope this book brings back many memories and good times of your years at OCPM. Keep in touch and I’ll see y’all out there in the “real World”.
