Father Lazur Accepts New Position

For the past five years, Father Joseph Lazur, son of former KSU President J. Thomas Doane, has been serving as chaplain at KSUSC, but soon he'll be leaving for a new position.

In June, Father Lazur will be assuming the position of associate headmaster at Bremondale High School in Arkansas.

Father Lazur ca lls this new position "a real change." He has enjoyed thinking about growth experiences for himself.

"Bremondale meets the needs of young men who desire a career of service in the Roman Catholic Church," he said.

According to Father Lazur, who hails from a family of priests, this new position will allow him to mentor young men who have had "some exposure to the life of a priest," such as the Rev. Thomas Doane, the administration and the student, he commented.

With this day-to-day ministry, Father Lazur believes there has been a growth process in him as a person and in the university community.

The people he has met through his ministry here have left him with many special moments where he has given a gift to each ther e," he said.

Father Lazur believes the spiritual life and function should be directly as a helping hand, but as an open door ready to accept and serve.

There should be a mutual sharing and caring process of trust and love that makes our lives better," he added.

Statistics are not important in Father Lazur's ministry. He doesn't look at the method of how many students he has helped. "You can't count people," he stated.

Since he has been at the campus a number of years, Father Lazur has had the opportunity to see the changing attitudes and activities of students.

Father Lazur has noticed a shift from external activism among students to a deeper concern for personal individual growth. He considers the shift as a maturing, deepening process in students, for "people have different reasons why they are here ."

Declining to call the shift a move toward non-involvement or apathy by students, Father Lazur contends that "activism has shifted its tone - rather than being dead.

"Students today have a depth of understanding themselves and where they are without being locked into a concept for 'what they wanted to do and what a more wholesome society.'" He stated.

Declining to detail which campus administration "unfriendly," will not be easy, but he is looking forward to his work at Bremondale.

"I'll miss being closely involved in the lives of young men and women in a campus atmosphere, but I don't consider it a difference," he said. "I'll try to be adding individuals in making life decisions," he concluded.

Community Volunteers Needs Members

The Community Volunteer Service, under the direction of Mr. Frederick Worrell, associate professor of government, has announced it is seeking new members.

Sam Korta, a former KSUSC student, initiated the club during spring quarter last year. Sam was also assistant director of "Fiddler on the Roof" and assistant director of the Outdoor Club at Keiser University.

This year, no officers have been elected yet, but Bertha Sullivan has been active in club meetings.

Other students are Carol Greene and Sandra Hasha.

A recent graduate of McKinley High School, Jim Ross appeared in all campus theater productions, but has also performed in the Graphic Design Stage, "Deedwood Dick," "The Time of Your Life" and "Aesop's Fables." He also worked as a technical assistant. Both he and Steven Bland were recently selected for the college's national theater auditions.

"Jaqque Brel is Alive and We ll and Living in Paris." Sh e wa s als o th e as sis ta nt di re ct or fo r

Although it is not a main goal of the club, there are a few summer employment opportunities. Mr. Worrell explained that when a student works as a volunteer they have a good chance of being considered for the next job-opening.

The volunteer services are generally non-credit, but, in some special cases, the Community Affairs Practicum, through the department of Sociology and Anthropology at Kent State, it is possible for the student to receive academic credits.

"We are interested in the fact that the problem facing the club is dissonance due to the fact that even a student is not an active volunteer, he begins to associate more with his service than the church. Mr. Worrell isn't sure whether or not this is really a problem or not - it may be a temporary to the growth of the campus community interest, but, if it continues and they are interested in serving as volunteers," said Mr. Worrell.

The club is open and is looking for volunteers.

Mr. Worrell explained that when a student works as a volunteer they have a good chance of being considered for the next job-opening.

The volunteer services are generally non-credit, but, in some special cases, the Community Affairs Practicum, through the department of Sociology and Anthropology at Kent State, it is possible for the student to receive academic credits.

"We are interested in the fact that the problem facing the club is dissonance due to the fact that even a student is not an active volunteer, he begins to associate more with his service than the church. Mr. Worrell isn't sure whether or not this is really a problem or not - it may be a temporary to the growth of the campus community interest, but, if it continues and they are interested in serving as volunteers," said Mr. Worrell.

The club is open and is looking for volunteers.

Community Volunteers Needs Members

The Community Volunteer Service, under the direction of Mr. Frederick Worrell, associate professor of government, has announced it is seeking new members.

Sam Korta, a former KSUSC student, initiated the club during spring quarter last year. Sam was also assistant director of "Fiddler on the Roof" and assistant director of the Outdoor Club at Keiser University.

This year, no officers have been elected yet, but Bertha Sullivan has been active in club meetings.

Other students are Carol Greene and Sandra Hasha.

A recent graduate of McKinley High School, Jim Ross appeared in all campus theater productions, but has also performed in the Graphic Design Stage, "Deedwood Dick," "The Time of Your Life" and "Aesop's Fables." He also worked as a technical assistant. Both he and Steven Bland were recently selected for the college's national theater auditions.

"Jaqque Brel is Alive and We ll and Living in Paris." Sh e wa s als o th e as sis ta nt di re ct or fo r

Although it is not a main goal of the club, there are a few summer employment opportunities. Mr. Worrell explained that when a student works as a volunteer they have a good chance of being considered for the next job-opening.

The volunteer services are generally non-credit, but, in some special cases, the Community Affairs Practicum, through the department of Sociology and Anthropology at Kent State, it is possible for the student to receive academic credits.

"We are interested in the fact that the problem facing the club is dissonance due to the fact that even a student is not an active volunteer, he begins to associate more with his service than the church. Mr. Worrell isn't sure whether or not this is really a problem or not - it may be a temporary to the growth of the campus community interest, but, if it continues and they are interested in serving as volunteers," said Mr. Worrell.

The club is open and is looking for volunteers.

Mr. Worrell explained that when a student works as a volunteer they have a good chance of being considered for the next job-opening.

The volunteer services are generally non-credit, but, in some special cases, the Community Affairs Practicum, through the department of Sociology and Anthropology at Kent State, it is possible for the student to receive academic credits.

"We are interested in the fact that the problem facing the club is dissonance due to the fact that even a student is not an active volunteer, he begins to associate more with his service than the church. Mr. Worrell isn't sure whether or not this is really a problem or not - it may be a temporary to the growth of the campus community interest, but, if it continues and they are interested in serving as volunteers," said Mr. Worrell.

The club is open and is looking for volunteers.

Mr. Worrell explained that when a student works as a volunteer they have a good chance of being considered for the next job-opening.

The volunteer services are generally non-credit, but, in some special cases, the Community Affairs Practicum, through the department of Sociology and Anthropology at Kent State, it is possible for the student to receive academic credits.

"We are interested in the fact that the problem facing the club is dissonance due to the fact that even a student is not an active volunteer, he begins to associate more with his service than the church. Mr. Worrell isn't sure whether or not this is really a problem or not - it may be a temporary to the growth of the campus community interest, but, if it continues and they are interested in serving as volunteers," said Mr. Worrell.

The club is open and is looking for volunteers.

Community Volunteers Needs Members

The Community Volunteer Service, under the direction of Mr. Frederick Worrell, associate professor of government, has announced it is seeking new members.

Sam Korta, a former KSUSC student, initiated the club during spring quarter last year. Sam was also assistant director of "Fiddler on the Roof" and assistant director of the Outdoor Club at Keiser University.

This year, no officers have been elected yet, but Bertha Sullivan has been active in club meetings.

Other students are Carol Greene and Sandra Hasha.

A recent graduate of McKinley High School, Jim Ross appeared in all campus theater productions, but has also performed in the Graphic Design Stage, "Deedwood Dick," "The Time of Your Life" and "Aesop's Fables." He also worked as a technical assistant. Both he and Steven Bland were recently selected for the college's national theater auditions.

"Jaqque Brel is Alive and We ll and Living in Paris." Sh e wa s als o th e as sis ta nt di re ct or fo r

Although it is not a main goal of the club, there are a few summer employment opportunities. Mr. Worrell explained that when a student works as a volunteer they have a good chance of being considered for the next job-opening.

The volunteer services are generally non-credit, but, in some special cases, the Community Affairs Practicum, through the department of Sociology and Anthropology at Kent State, it is possible for the student to receive academic credits.

"We are interested in the fact that the problem facing the club is dissonance due to the fact that even a student is not an active volunteer, he begins to associate more with his service than the church. Mr. Worrell isn't sure whether or not this is really a problem or not - it may be a temporary to the growth of the campus community interest, but, if it continues and they are interested in serving as volunteers," said Mr. Worrell.

The club is open and is looking for volunteers.

Mr. Worrell explained that when a student works as a volunteer they have a good chance of being considered for the next job-opening.

The volunteer services are generally non-credit, but, in some special cases, the Community Affairs Practicum, through the department of Sociology and Anthropology at Kent State, it is possible for the student to receive academic credits.

"We are interested in the fact that the problem facing the club is dissonance due to the fact that even a student is not an active volunteer, he begins to associate more with his service than the church. Mr. Worrell isn't sure whether or not this is really a problem or not - it may be a temporary to the growth of the campus community interest, but, if it continues and they are interested in serving as volunteers," said Mr. Worrell.

The club is open and is looking for volunteers.

Mr. Worrell explained that when a student works as a volunteer they have a good chance of being considered for the next job-opening.

The volunteer services are generally non-credit, but, in some special cases, the Community Affairs Practicum, through the department of Sociology and Anthropology at Kent State, it is possible for the student to receive academic credits.

"We are interested in the fact that the problem facing the club is dissonance due to the fact that even a student is not an active volunteer, he begins to associate more with his service than the church. Mr. Worrell isn't sure whether or not this is really a problem or not - it may be a temporary to the growth of the campus community interest, but, if it continues and they are interested in serving as volunteers," said Mr. Worrell.

The club is open and is looking for volunteers.
Mr. Lee Brubaker, assistant director of Academic Affairs; Mr. Gons Kinsley, special assistant to the director; Mr. John Harkness, instructor of Sociology; Mr. Jack Morehart.

KSUSG director and Mr. John Garrett, registrar-admissions officer will take part in the first annual KSUSG Golf Tournament to be held on Friday, May 27 at Edgewood Golf Club. A $5 donation will cover costs and any proceeds will go to the Scholarship Fund.

Connelly And Williams Join Light Opera

Two KSUSG students, Gary Connolly and Beth Williams, will be performing in the summer offering of the KSLU Light Opera Company at several locations in the county.

The KSLU Light Opera, now in its seventh season, is a program designed to introduce newcomers to opera and to build an understanding of the history of that art form. The program is presented for everyone, including those who have taken part in previous performances.

KSLU Light Opera will be produced in Fort Smith and in the Stark Campus Music Center. Performances will be held on Friday, June 10 at 7:30 p.m. and on Saturday, June 11 at 3:00 p.m.

Beth is a sophomore majoring in theater. She is the second-year student of the Light Opera Co. She has performed in five of the six plays and has had the experience of being an assistant director on the last three productions. She will be performing in five of the six Light Opera Co. productions and will be a lead in "Mikado".

Gary, a sophomore, is majoring in Dramatic Arts and minoring in Music. He has been a part of the company with Barry in the other eight. Gary has been a part of the company with Barry in the other eight.

Other performances to be announced are "The Tin Man" (July 21), "The Wizard of Oz" (July 27), "At the Circus" (July 28), and "The Mikado" (July 29).

Performances will be held at 8:00 p.m. at 8:30 p.m. at the Stark Campus Music Center and at 3:00 p.m. at the Fort Smith Civic Center. All performances will be conducted by Mr. William Hamilton, assistant professor of music. Matinee performances will also take place on the following dates:

- July 19 at 3:00 p.m.
- July 20 at 3:00 p.m.
- July 22 at 3:00 p.m.
- July 24 at 3:00 p.m.
- July 26 at 3:00 p.m.
- July 28 at 3:00 p.m.
- July 30 at 3:00 p.m.

Each performance will be conducted by Mr. William Hamilton, assistant professor of music.

Outstanding Students Receive Recognition

The KSUSG annual Humanitarian Commendation will be held on Thursday, May 26 at 7 p.m. in Lecture Hall 100 of the Social Sciences and Administrative Building.

Mr. Philip Hobbs, theater and speech instructor at KSUSG and one of the two recipients of the KSUSG Distinguished Teaching Award, will be the guest speaker. The Araba Capella Chair, directed by Mr. Hamilton, will present a program of music that will also take part in the Convocation program.

Honorees include the Dean’s List students who carry 15 or more hours and who have an average of 3.9 or higher. Those who are not on the Dean’s List, yet who have an average of 3.9 or higher, will also be honored.

Special recognition will be given the seven KSUSG students who cumulative average is higher than 3.9.

Departmental awards will be presented to outstanding students in Biology, Chemistry, Education, English, German, Home Economics, Geography, Math, Physics, Political Science, Speech and Sociology. The awards will be presented by department heads.

Distinguished Teaching Award winners, the Dean’s Outstanding Student, will be announced by the Office of the President.

For information, contact the office of the President or the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs.

TIME OUT

THE ‘77 KSUSC Cobra baseball team began its season with a 5-3 win over rival KSU East, Liverpool, on Saturday, April 23. The team is currently 6-4 in the season.

The team is led by Coach Bill McMillan, who is in his fourth year at the helm of the program. The team has been a strong contender in recent years, finishing in the top 10 of the national rankings.

The Cobra’s roster lists three right-handed pitchers, two left-handed pitchers, and one reliever. The starting rotation features a mix of experienced and young talent. The team is currently 6-4 in the season with a 3.0 ERA. The Cobra’s offense is led by first baseman Jay Jones, who is hitting .367 with 10 home runs and 24 RBIs.

The team’s defense has been solid, with the outfield of Taylor, Johnson, and Davis producing a strong showing. The team’s record is 6-4, but they are currently tied for first place in the conference. The team is looking to build on their early season success and continue their winning ways.

The Cobra’s season is expected to be a successful one, with the team looking to compete for a conference championship and a spot in the NCAA tournament. The team is currently ranked 15th in the nation and is looking to improve on their performance from last season.

The team is backed by a strong coaching staff, with Coach McMillan leading the way. The team’s success is a result of hard work, dedication, and teamwork. The team is looking to build off their early season success and make a deep run in the conference tournament.