Changes in Ohio Presidential primary laws will allow slate voting at the polls May 2.

This is the first year Ohioans can either slate one Presidential candidate or vote for individual delegates.

Voters will be electing delegates to the National Democratic and Republican Presidential Nominating Conventions to be held this summer. They will vote four times choosing Delegates-at-Large, Alternates-at-Large, District Delegates, and District Alternate Delegates.

Delegates-at-Large will represent the entire state at the national convention while District Delegates will represent their congressional districts.

Democrats will be choosing delegates for five Presidential candidates. They are Edmund S. Muskie, Hubert H. Humphrey, Henry M. Jackson, Eugene J. McCarthy, and George McGovern.

Each candidate has the same number of delegate candidates. The voter can mark his ballot for an entire slate of candidates pledged to the same Presidential candidate or he can choose individual delegates.

Ballots will be considered invalid if people slate one Presidential candidate and individually vote for other delegates on the same ballot.

Democrat voters in the 16th Congressional District will select 19 Alternates-at-Large, 39 Delegates-at-Large, five District Delegates, and three District Alternates.

Republicans can only vote slate tickets. This is because they have one "first candidate" who is Richard Nixon.

There are no others opposing Nixon in the Ohio primaries.

Ten Delegates-at-Large, ten Alternates-at-Large, two District Delegates, and two District Alternates are on the Republican ballot.

Democratic delegate candidates are chosen at public meetings. They must be party members and be of voting age.

Area candidates invited to SRC

by Cindy McInnes

Four candidates for the 16th Congressional District will be invited to speak at KSUSRC according to an announcement made at last Sunday’s student senate meeting.

The four are Virgil Musser, Ralph Regula, John Freedom and Edward Mahoney. Dates and times candidates will speak is to be announced latter.

The only action taken at the meeting were the appointments of Richard Utke as high court advisor, Lee F. Paulson as Senate faculty advisor and William Casto Jr. as Senate administrative advisor.

Announcements included a warning about the use of the Sock-it-to-me game in the Boiler Room. Students have been stuffing the goals in order to get free games. If the practice is not stopped, the game will be removed, according to the Senate.

Chairman Mike Panasiti announced that a table will be set up to get the signatures of students who wish to go to Cedar Point on June 11. The table will be in the lower level lounge for two weeks.

A letter from Dean Kahler, chairman of the May 4 committee, was read. Dean said that his committee had come up with a recommendation for the May 4 memorial services at KSUSRC. The committee suggested that all classes be cancelled after 12:00, a film about the events of May 4 be shown in the main lecture hall, and then a speaker to discuss the film.

The next senate meeting will be April 23 at 1:30 p.m. Students are invited to attend.
New FPA building ahead of schedule

Completion of the Fine and Professional Arts building may be completed as early as next October.

According to Dale Wearstler, Asst. Director for Business Affairs, the $1,500,000 building is now 50 per cent completed. With the deadline in December the structure is well ahead of schedule.

One problem that could delay progress is the expiration of all building union contracts at the end of this month. Wearstler would not comment on pending negotiations saying that the contracts were the responsibility of the contractor and sub-contractors.

The most visible portion of the 56,000 square foot building is a theater with seating capacity of 340 persons. A "green room" lounge, dressing rooms equipped with showers, music rehearsal rooms, music library and orchestra pit will complement the theater.

A movie projection room and electrically operated screen will also be available in the theater.

Equipment now housed in the old Nobis Studio on Whipple Rd. will be moved into the new FPA center. Home Economics, Industrial Arts, and Music are presently taught in the leased structure.

Speech and Journalism, which are now housed in the main building, will also move to the FPA site. The Speech Dept. will have a debate library and a speech and hearing clinic featuring special labs.

Journalism will have a photo lab (to be shared with Industrial Arts) and separate reporting and editing rooms.

Dear Editor:

In regard to recent complaints by some students saying that most students do not have enough interest in our amazing regional campus, I must say that Frank Road High deserves whatever it gets.

I say this because there are not enough courses to keep a student majoring in certain areas here over two years. The student gov't. is a puppet of the administration. Some of the students are stuck on themselves. The newspaper is of highschool level. Podunk Junction Post Gazette is more interesting. No wonder this hole is called "Frank Road High". Many of the prof's don't know anymore about what they are teaching than I do. The food is very expensive and mediocre.

Deadline for Transfers and Transients to Main Campus for Summer, 1972 is June 1, 1972. Summer quarter will not be by computer. Forms are available in Room 110 or Evening Service, Room 108.

There will also be a separate office for the MONTAGE staff.

Home Economics will have six kitchen units, sewing rooms and clothing labs where materials can be tested.

The Industrial Arts Department is designed for a wood shop, metal shop, engineering drawing room and a graphic arts area.

In the North Wing of the building the Art Department will have five special classrooms.

BSU seeks funds for Afro Lib Day

Washington D.C. has been chosen as the Eastern location for the African Liberation Day demonstration May 27. The Kent Stark Black Student Union hopes to mobilize 500 participants from this area to attend.

Lenny Tharp, president of the Kent Stark B.S.U., is head of the finance committee for African Liberation Day. He is hoping to raise the needed funds by soliciting contributions from various organizations.

The choice of Washington D.C. for the African Liberation Day demonstration was due to its location and the easy accessibility to embassies and the State Department.

Students face complex ballot in primary

by H. Allen Etling

When you walk into the voting booth, perhaps for the first time, Tuesday May 2, you'll be faced with an incredible number of ballots with a glaring list of public offices and candidates.

In addition to the presidential primary there will be 17 public offices with between 33 and 36 Democrats or Republicans from which to choose depending in which district you live. Four candidates are running unopposed.

State-wide issues will include two constitutional amendments. One will authorize a state lottery of which the proceeds shall be paid into the general revenue of the state. This money will not be "earmarked" for any specific areas, but will be appropriated as the legislators decide.

The other amendment calls for reorganization of the General Assembly procedures and a salary increase for the legislators. The same amendment would provide that the Governor and Lt. Governor be chosen from the same party.

Those persons living in the Louisville district will be voting on a two-mill tax renewal levy. Persons living in the Northwest local school district will be voting on a proposed $1,560,000 bond issue.

Due to the strike of the CANTON REPOSITORY voters will have to find other sources of information that the newspaper would normally provide.

According to Jerry Figurski, political science instructor, "The best way of getting to know the candidates is to talk with them individually or invite them to a coffee hour with a group of other students." Other sources of information on any candidates or duties of the offices can be found by contacting the following organizations:

* League of Women Voters of Canton Area, 226 Montrose N.W./456-2260
* Democratic Central Committee of Stark Co., Harvard Bldg./454-5340
* Republican Central & Executive Comm. Mellett Bldg./453-6708

Of the 147,870 registered Stark county voters in the May 1968 primary (the last presidential primary) only 84,842 voted according to Robert McFadden, director of the county board of elections.

There were 162,303 registered in the county by the April 3 deadline.

New voting rules

Party guidelines indicate that 50 percent must be men, 50 percent women. Also 26 percent must be black and 15 percent youth (18-30).

The party itself selects Republican delegate candidates.

Both party delegates must have signatures from registered voters before they are placed on the ballot.

Under old Ohio primary law at least 1,000 registered party members in 1/3 of the 88 counties had to sign a petition to get the candidate on the ballot. Each delegate listed his first and second choice for President.

Jerry Figurski, political science instructor, points out that Presidential primaries serve as advisory popularity polls.

"Although primaries stimulate voter interest, the sampling of voter opinions is not a valid one because voter turnout is low and not representative. The number of primaries in certain sections of the nation is almost nil and candidates are not required to enter all primaries," he says.

Figurski continues to say that a more desirable method of selecting delegates to a national convention would be to have a national primary in which all voters would choose among potential candidates.

Ohio's Presidential primaries are different from many other states. Some have two ballots. One is Presidential candidate preference and the other delegate preference.
Vocal students chosen at SRC

New members for the A Cappella choir, Madrigal Singers, and the KSUSRC Chorale were chosen by audition for Spring Quarter.

The KSUSRC Chorale, formed this year, is a select group of 31 who have had extensive singing experience during their high school years.

The sixteen members of the madrigal group sing music of the renaissance and romantic period. Last February 17, they were guest artists at the Macdowell Club concert at the Canton Cultural Center.

The A Cappella choir, a larger group of about 30, is open to the entire student body and encompasses a wide range of talent in the Kent Stark community.

Tryouts are held for all three groups. "Singers must be in the group that will benefit them the most. Some of the singers participate in all three groups," said Mr. Hamilton, director of the three choirs.

The winter concert, held last March, in room 100, was attended by about 250 people. "Magnificat," by the Baroque composer Pergolisi, was featured.

Today is the last day to circulate a petition for president and vice-president. Forms are in room 218. Elections will be May 2 and 3.

Childrens Theatre to tour the area

The KSUSRC Children's Theatre will present The Hobbit to Canton-Massillon elementary schools next week and to the public next weekend at the Cedar Chest Theatre.

The Massillon elementary schools to be toured by the cast are Smith (Monday), York (Wednesday) and Bowers (Friday). The Canton Schools are Wells on Tuesday and Lathrop on Thursday.

There will be presentations at Cedar Chest: Friday at 8:15 p.m. and Saturday at 2:00 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.

Admission will be 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for children. Kent Stark students will be admitted free.

GOING TO RUN FOR OFFICE?

In the May election there could be many students who are not familiar with you or your qualifications for student government.

This newspaper reaches every student at KSUSRC. Let the students know why you should be elected. Buy an ad in MONTAGE to talk to your electorate.

The board will work with Gilligan, expressing college students' views on various aspects of state government. Frank will be representing all regional campuses in Ohio.

Quality Standards Test Scheduled

Handwriting, a test required of all Composition Quality Standards Tests will be given May 6 in Room 301 to KSUSRC Education majors.

Handwriting, test required of all Education majors except Secondary Education majors, will be given at 9 a.m.

Mathematics test will be given at 10 a.m. to Secondary Education majors except those majoring in mathematics.

At 11 a.m., the Composition test will be given to Education majors with less than a "B" average in the freshman English series. Students needing to take these tests can sign up for them in Room 103 before May 5.

Quality Standards Test requirements must be met by all Education majors prior to admission to junior standing.

KSU news service, Dr. Olds said the increase "must be put into effect because funds appropriated by the legislature for the coming fiscal year are not sufficient, given the current inflationary period and such mandated costs as pay raises for civil service employees."

He said the increases were need to balance the preliminary 1972-73 operating budget of $39 million which was approved by the trustees.

Transfer students will also face increased costs.

New rates will be $20 a quarter higher than at present. The charges, which depend on the type of room (single, double, etc.) and the number of meals eaten on campus, will range from $1,074 for the regular academic a triple room and 19 meals to $1,260 per year ($420 quarterly) for a single room and 19 meals.

Fee waiver plan to end by 1976-77

Persons hired by Kent State University after September 12, 1972 will not be eligible for the fee waiver privilege that presently aids KSU employees.

The fee waiver, which gives the dependents of KSU employees a "discount" based on the number of hours taken, will be given to those who are employed before the September 12 deadline and will continue through the 1976-77 academic year.

Fee waiver benefits after the 1976-77 year will be based solely on employee service to the university.

Rents at the married student apartments operated by the university also will be increased, with the higher rent ranging from $110 to $120 a month.

Campus Life staff to visit Monday

Members of the Student Residence Life staff of Kent State University will be visiting here Monday from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the foyer to answer questions about living accommodations on campus.

They will assist students who are planning to attend main campus next year in their selections of places to live. Both residence halls and off-campus representatives will be available to talk to students.

Students having any questions about locations, room sizes, rates, applications, roommate assignments, optional services, or educational and social programs should take this opportunity to talk with them.

AAU MEET TO BENEFIT STARK COMMUNITY

What will the Women's AAU Track and Field finals, held here June 28 and 29 and July 1 and 2, mean to the Stark County community and Stark Regional Campus?

According to Larry Snyder, guest speaker at last Monday's Hall of Fame luncheon, the advantages of bringing the national championship meet to the Kent Stark campus will be many and great.

Snyder, former track coach at Ohio State who tutored nine world record holders during his reign including Jesse Owens, envisioned financial growth, world recognition, and opportunity for other major sporting events as the harvest of hosting the early summer meet.

Snyder pointed out that the meet will be the largest women's track and field event ever held in the United States and one of the most meaningful, considering the tremendous growth of women's track and field during the past decade.

The caliber of competition was also summed up by Snyder when he predicted that several world records would be set when the action begins. Such heralded names as Esther Stroy, Willye White, Cheryl Toussaint and Debbie Heald, recent record breaker of the women's indoor mile run (4:38.5) are expected to blaze the Kent Stark oval.

Track clubs from all corners of the nation have submitted entries to run in the meet. Also, Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Panama, England and Nationalist China are to be represented by their women athletes.

Cobra diamond nine trimmed 1-0, 3-2 by Cuyahoga West

Being held to only five hits in both games, the Kent Stark Cobras lost twice to Cuyahoga Community College West on April 11 by scores of 1-0 and 3-2.

In game one, Jeff Swindford allowed a run on two hits in the first inning, then scattered five hits the rest of the way. Swindford walked only two, one intentionally, and struck out three. The Cobras managed just three hits off Cuyahoga's Dave Muniek, two by Tom Breedlove and one by Dave Shankle, and only once did a Cobra runner reach third.

Three pitchers allowed three runs on nine hits in the second game, while the Cobras scored twice on just two hits. Jim Schnabel started and worked one inning, giving up a run on two hits plus a walk. Bill Smith worked the next two innings, giving up one unearned run, two hits, three walks, and whiffing two. Steve Yurkey allowed in his three innings of pitching one run on five hits, no walks and three strike-outs.

Having been no-hit through the first six frames and trailing 3-0, the Cobra bats finally came alive in the seventh inning. Tom Breedlove collected his third hit of the day by leading off with a single. Jerome Pruett was then safe on an error, to put runners on first and second. Tom Davis lined a double down the left field line, scoring Breedlove and moving Pruett to third. Dave Shankle then hit a slow hopper to the short stop. Davis, trying to move to third, collided with the shortstop, who was moving in for the play, and was called out for interference. Pruett, who had already crossed the plate, was told to move back to third. He later scored on a double steal, but Shankle was left stranded on second.

The next Cobra baseball outing will be Sunday at KSU Ashtabula. Starting time for the doubleheader is 1:00. Last Saturday's game against Walsh was cancelled and at press time there was no information available on yesterday's Walsh contest.

Linksters drop first outing

A 12 over par 70 by medalist Mark Gorga told the story of the Kent Stark links debut last Friday at Edgewood.

The Cobras came out on the short end of a triangular match, showing a 527 card compared to Walsh's 448 and Lakeland Community College's 460.

Victorious Walsh placed all six of their swingers in the 70's including medalist Dave Merritt's 72.

Lou Pavlik of Lakeland was the match medalist, carding a 69.

At press time, there was no information available on the Trumbull-Tuscarawas triangular held yesterday at Edgewood. The next Cobra outing will be next Friday against Walsh at Edgewood.

Tennis slate set

A five game tennis schedule is in the making and net coach Dick McFarland is looking for talent to fill this year's roster.

A tentative schedule of Elyria (April 25), Walsh (April 28 and May 5), and Mount Vernon (May 8 and 26) is on tap for the upcoming season.

McFarland, along with partner Bob Thompson, is ranked number one in the Senior Western 45 Doubles loop. The mentor has garnered the Canton City Tennis Championship consistently since 1937 and last year finished as runner-up.

Those interested in participating in the intramural badminton and tennis tournaments are asked to sign at the HPE office.
