The OCCOPODIAN

1954

PRESENTED BY THE SENIOR CLASS of the OHIO COLLEGE OF CHIROPODY

Cleveland, Ohio
This edition of the Occopodian is the result of many hours of work on the part of the administration and student body of the Ohio College of Chiropody. The editorial staff wishes to thank Dr. Egerter, Dr. Pomerantz, Mr. Esposito, Alan Gotts, and Ohio Advertising for their help in writing and editing this copy; George Horn and Leonard Fishman for obtaining the greatest number of ads. Thanks also to Ed Dillon for his excellent photographic work and to our advertisers, for without their support this edition of the Occopodian would not have been possible.

The Editors
In Memoriam

This year marked the passing of a man whose influence has been felt by all. He was a man who had the basic interests of Chiropody and the foot health of people at heart. In his unselfish desire for service to mankind, he founded this school — The Ohio College of Chiropody — that young men might learn of the principles of foot care.

In his lifetime he held many important offices. Notably, President of the National Association of Chiropodists, President of the Board of The Ohio College of Chiropody, and Dean of The Ohio College of Chiropody. In recent years because of ill health, he was forced to resign his active offices and then became Dean Emeritus of the college.

The school, and in a greater sense the profession as a whole, stands as a living memorial to Dr. Max Harmolin.

What constitutes a profession? Knowledge, type of work, special education? No one knows. Professionalism is something in the minds of men, undefined, unclarified, offering prestige and prominence. It is generally agreed, however, that any field being considered a “profession” must enforce certain fundamental characteristics; the most important characteristic . . . ethics.

As the wheels of progress grind and churn along the track of success, mistakes must be made, set-backs must be endured, inconsistencies must be expected. After these allowances are made, there must still be no exceptions in ethical behavior. This realization must never leave the mind.

All individuals are constantly plagued by social and business pressures. Few individuals must endure the pressures, social and professional, that are accepted by a member of the medical field. In his hands, trustingly, lies the welfare of his fellow man. This responsibility requires complete agreement of the Code of Ethics of his chosen profession with his personal beliefs. This agreement will be a prime factor in forming a better good for the Man of Chiropody in strengthening his profession and himself.

T GIVES me a great deal of pleasure to be asked once again to direct a message to you through the medium of the Occopodian. One often hears it said that more important events have taken place in world development during the times of those now living than in any other similar period in the history of man. In the college life history of most of you students, our college has witnessed more important and varied events than in any other similar period in its existence. This time is most propitious for such a message because of the excellent position and standing that your Alma Mater enjoys. The Board of Trustees finds itself being congratulated on all sides for continuing under many handicaps to turn out men to fill such a great need in various sections of our country. And particularly, when you men, because of the high standard of the education you are privileged to receive, can attain the standing in your communities which the previous graduates of your College have reached and maintained.

It is because of our Alumni that we hold the position that we do in the field of Chiropodical education and we must depend on you future Alumni for our standing in the years to come. If you will hold to the principles which you are being taught now and never be persuaded to deviate from them by arguments which may at the moment appear more profitable or beneficial, your Alma Mater will continue to rank as the finest Chiropodical College in the country.

Please allow me to extend my sincere good wishes to you on your road through life. The future brings a golden promise of greater things to come with the knowledge that your Alma Mater will always be proud of her graduates.

M. M. POMERANTZ, M.D.
Dean
HEN the Board of Trustees elected me the President of the Ohio College of Chiropody two years ago, I was aware of many responsibilities. Paramount among these was the need for enthusiasm. I realized that it is impossible for any institution to reach its ultimate potential without a definite spirit of enthusiasm and pride within its student body—enthusiasm for Chiropody—and pride in their privilege of being an integral part of the greatest profession of the healing arts—pride in their lot as Chiropodists.

The enviable record established by the Class of 1954 is indicative of your realization of the importance of these qualities. I congratulate you on your progressive spirit and stimulating enthusiasm.

Someone has said: “If a man can leave his son but one thing—then let that one thing be enthusiasm.”

It is my sincere wish that at least part of this enthusiasm and pride, manifested so actively by your class, will infiltrate into the minds of the lower classmen. It is a most worthy and sacred heritage.

May this zeal, too, carry on into each one of your professional lives. With it the College and the profession will continue to go forward and the ultimate fulfillment of all your dreams and aspirations will be assured.

B. C. EGERTER, D. S. C.
President
HE editors of this edition of the Occopodian as well as the Senior Class of the college had little difficulty in deciding to whom this book should be dedicated. By a unanimous decision this edition is dedicated to a man who for 30 years now, has graciously given up of his time, monies, and knowledge to the students of this college. That man is Andrew J. Wish, professor of Physiotherapy.

In the course of three years we seniors have had imparted to us a complete and thorough understanding of the principles as well as the practical application of the field of physiotherapy. Dr. Wish's practical demonstrations throughout the entire course aided in removing the idea of didactic training without practical applications.

To Dr. Wish goes our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for a job well done and the hope that the future will bring to him all that he so righteously deserves.

Advancement of a profession must begin with its students. Here the seed is planted, nurtured and cultivated until on graduation day the first tender sprouts break through ready to accept the challenge of life.

I came in contact for the first time with your class two years ago when you entered the clinic. You were a little shy, a little apprehensive, and I dare say a little frightened of your first contact with the public. To some of you contact with the public was not new, but to all of you it was to be your first venture into the realm of relieving human suffering.

Here it was you joined that great army of men and women in the profession of healing. It's a very short time to prepare for a lifetime of service, but as a result of the progress of your college you emerge as the best equipped class ever to graduate from this school.

With this background I now charge you to go forward in your chosen profession; your years of studying and learning are not at an end. As long as you practice in a progressive manner you will understand that graduation is in reality your commencement.

As your class advisor I can do no better than admonish you to practice the golden rule in your dealing with the public and your colleagues. I hope and wish for all of you the accomplishments in the future that you deserve for yourselves; but do not become so engrossed in worldly matters that you forget your beginnings in the college of your choice. We shall not forget you. Good luck and God be with you.

GEORGE HORN
Senior Class President

It is with a feeling of deep gratitude that we, the class of 1954, approach the momentous day on which we say farewell to the Ohio College of Chiropody.

We thank our instructors, the administrative staff of the college, and the Board of Trustees, for their relentless efforts on our behalf, and for making possible the day which brings to us the transformation from student to doctor — the day which we have worked and waited for since we entered these halls four long years ago.

To my fellow graduates I say — do not make this transformation a complete one. Do not let the acquisition of the degree of Doctor of Surgical Chiropody remove the appellation of “student” from your minds. For, it is only as long as every doctor remains a student that progress will be made in research, and that each individual practice will keep up to the progressing standards of our profession, a profession which has grown greatly in the last few years, and which, with the ACTIVE aid and support of all of us will reach the pinnacle of recognition and success that we envision for it.

Toward this end I want to urge you all to become members of the National Association of Chiropodists, and of your respective state and local organizations. Support them actively and vigorously, for in their strength lies a great potential for the advancement of Chiropody.

In parting, let me wish you all the best of luck, and express the hope that wherever we may be in the years to come, we will not forget the friendships and associations which enriched our days as members of the class of 1954 of the Ohio College of Chiropody.

GEORGE HORN
Senior Class President

Extra-Curricular activities play an essential role in the progress of our school. Glancing over the past year, many activities have filled our college calendar of events.

Socially, the year got off to a fun-filled start with a Welcome Dance sponsored by the Student Council. Next, the students enjoyed a Snow Ball Hop sponsored by the Women's Club (wives of the fellow students), in December. The music for the occasion was provided by Al Zucker and his Combo. The Dance was a great success.

Just before Christmas the Student Council held its annual Christmas Assembly. At this time the Senior Class presented to Dr. Pomerantz a projector as the class gift. The Student Council acting in behalf of the student body bestowed gifts of appreciation to the administrative staff. Also on the program was Dr. H. Knowles who delivered a talk, and we were most fortunate in again having Mrs. Dan McCarthy who sang two Christmas songs as she has so graciously done in the past three years.

In April of this year the Student Council presented its Annual O. C. C. Variety Show. Laughs galore were the "bill of fare" for a highly successful and enjoyable evening.

The F. A. A. C. Convention in February was the highlight of our educational, extra-curricular activities. The leading men of the Chiropody profession were on hand to discuss the latest techniques and newest developments in Chiropody. Juniors and Seniors were invited to attend the lectures and social events. There were many notables in the field who gave special lectures; men such as Dr. Ralph Dye from Sandy Lake, Penn.; Dr. Felton Gamble of Tuscon, Arizona; and Dr. Richard Schuester from New York City.

All in all, the activities have meant much to us all in furthering our education and helping to develop us as men who will further the aims of Chiropody.

DON A. ENGEL and
FRANKLIN D. JAMES
Gamma Sigma Tau began the 1953-54 year with many special lectures and demonstrations. In October, Dr. C. C. Robinson spoke to a closed group on "The Doctor's Personality." Members of Gamma visited with graduate members during the month of November. Included among these were Dr.'s. James Guy and Milton Jackson.

Dr. James Guy invited all the members of the fraternity to his home for a Pre-Christmas Party. Everyone had a most enjoyable time.

Dr. Pitts spoke to the fraternity at a closed session in January on "Purchasing Your Equipment." GST was fortunate in having Dr. F. S. Lych as guest speaker on "Office Procedure."

The Annual Gamma Sigma Tau Convention again was held in Chicago in April. Many of the members attended and gained invaluable knowledge.

All seniors of Gamma Sigma Tau are anxiously awaiting June 5, 1954, graduation. Brother James Crawford, President for the past year, will be awaiting his commission in the Navy upon graduation in June.

Gamma Sigma Tau wishes the greatest success to the senior brothers of our fraternity and to the Class of 1954.

JAMES R. LINDSEY
President
This past year has seen the fraternity more active than ever before. The scientific program has been outstanding. The lectures have been supplemented with monthly meetings at the homes of the members for the purpose of demonstration of the practical chiropodical techniques. A well balanced program was launched beginning with the '53 Senior Farewell Ball, followed by the Harvest Moon Ball, the Christmas party, Spring social and ending with the '54 Senior affair. These major events along with several stag gatherings and lunches rounded out a full program.

A notable achievement of the year was establishment of a permanent Alumni Fund, administered by Dr. Willard Goodman, our faculty advisor since the beginning of the organization. Dr. Goodman’s advice and interest have helped to keep the fraternity on the high level it has maintained through the years. Contact was made with the K. T. E. Newsletter, now a permanent organ of information of the fraternity.

The fraternity is once again proud to be represented by the men of this graduating class. To these men go our best wishes for a long and successful career in their chosen profession.

ROBERT GUIDICE
President
The Kappa Chapter of Alpha Gamma Kappa Fraternity closes another successful year of scientific, social and fraternal activities.

A scientific program was highlighted by prominent men of the professions of Chiropody and Medicine. Some of the guest speakers were: Dr. Pomerantz, Dr. Egerter, Dr. Collins, Dr. Marcus, and Dr. Bliehall. A highlight of the scientific program for the year was the surgery performed for the members by Dr. Witte. Demonstrations were also held throughout the year.

The social program included an Officer’s Installation Semi-formal Dinner Dance, the Annual Rush Stag Party, Initiation of Pledges, Senior Farewell Banquet, and the Spring Dance.

Alpha Gamma Kappa offers best wishes to the graduating “Gammas” and to the class of 1954, and extends sincere thanks to its officers for their service and inspirational leadership.

JOHN KEEN,
President
The Epsilon chapter of Phi Alpha Pi presented an excellent scientific and social program throughout the school year.

The scientific lectures were designed to broaden our knowledge of Chiropody. It featured such outstanding speakers as: Dr. Leonard Pleban, Dr. Burt Rety, Dr. Bernard Egerter, Dr. Ralph Orr, Dr. Seymour Soloman, and Dr. Earl Kaplan. Another means of encouraging the development of Chiropodical skill featured a program emphasizing monthly practical demonstrations.

Some of the highlights of the social calendar were a dinner-dance, ushering in the school year, at Nelson's Swedish Smorgasboard. Following this an initiation dinner was held at the Tudor Arms Hotel. The new year started with a holiday sleigh ride. As the curtain was about to close on the school year, our annual Senior Farewell-Officer Installation Dinner-Dance was held, thus bring to an end another year of successful scientific and social programming.

Evolution: Webster defines it as follows: "a development or a leading to a definite end." If one happens to be looking for a synonym for this word one could substitute the words Ohio College of Chiropody.

Let us for a moment explore the evolutionary changes that have transpired in our clinic within the past few months. The new intern program has been composed to give the intern scholastic, practical and surgical knowledge; it is a fifth year of study. Advancement has been made in the student rotation program wherein each senior spends five weeks of concentrated work in each of the following departments exclusive of the general chiropody department, 1. X-Ray and Diagnosis, 2. Physiotherapy, 3. Pathology Laboratory, 4. Orthopedic Laboratory, and 5. Surgery.

It is evident that proficiency could not be maintained without the untiring efforts of our capable clinical staff made up of two full time and 14 part time Chiropodists. The clinic pathology laboratory is also staffed by a full time pathologist.

Due to the above, the patient has been more satisfied in the chiropodical treatment received and has spread the gospel of pedal care. This in turn has accounted for the great influx of new patients now seeking treatment and consultation for their foot problems in our clinic.

ENJOY LIFE WITH ONE OF OUR FAMOUS STEAKBURGERS
We, the manufacturers of Reliance equipment, are proud to have served the Chiropody Profession for a generation.

Experience gained from constant research along lines suggested by the nation's leading Chiropodists has enabled us to produce equipment which offers the practitioner those qualities which he will most value in his day to day practice.

Like any long term investment, the purchase of professional equipment deserves careful thought. Comparison is the best yardstick. In a treatment chair ease of adjustment, patient comfort, sturdy construction and eye appeal are all features which play a leading role in determining the effortlessness and efficiency with which your day's appointments can be handled.

Compare, then ask your friends who own Reliance. They are our best salesmen.

Antioch Shoes

A PRODUCT OF ANTIOCH COLLEGE

Foot Specialists know that the success of their practice depends to a very considerable extent upon the quality of the shoes which their patients wear. Badly designed shoes can rapidly undo all that many hours of skillful treatment can accomplish. At the same time, ugly health shoes usually do little good, for women will not wear them consistently.

ANTIOCH SHOES are shaped like the feet. They have no gadgets or devices in them to operate against treatment or corrections which the foot specialist may prescribe. Antiochs are correct shoes, attractively styled. Write for a booklet.
